What is the Academy?

Our Learning Ethos

We deliver:

- Learning *not training, because we focus on the individual participant, the impact on them, and the change they can affect, not the input for its own sake.
- Learning & development *not education, as we are part of a workplace process of personal and organisational development, rather than a formal education structure.
- Programmes *not courses, as courses suggest a fixed entity. A programme suggests a collection of modules and experiences tailored for the learners.
- Tutoring and facilitation *not teaching, supporting people and creating a peer learning environment which builds on the experience and strengths that people bring.
